

A bad day

Ben had an unforgettable experience last week. He loves playing computer games. He stayed up late and didn't do his homework. Therefore, his mum was very furious.

The next day, he fell asleep during the English test because he was very tired. The test was about 45 minutes and he slept for 40 minutes. He didn't finish it. A few days later, the teacher gave the test paper to Ben. He failed!

Then Miss Ng said, "Work harder, Ben. Don't play computer games at midnight." "Sorry, Miss Ng. I will study hard and prepare the test well." Ben promised. Then Miss Ng was as happy as a lark. From that day on, he slept before ten o'clock and study hard.
